EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY T. CRAWFORD MACDOWELL

WEDNESDAY. DEC. 3, 1879. Thanksgiving Day in Honolulu.

Thanksgiving Day was observed by our citizens generally on Thursday, the 27th ult., in Honolule. A large concourse of people, principally Americans, attended the Fort Street Church at the appointed hour, 11 o'clock a. m The religious exercises were opened in the usual manner by the Rev. Mr. Freur, pastor of the Fort Street Church, who made an eloquent appropriate and impressive prayer, in which he returned thanks to the Allwise God of the Universe, for His tender mercies vouchsafed to His children, and especially to the people of the United States. The Rev. Dr. Damon then delivered a sermon replete with sound wisdom and scholastic research, in a style that was both masterly and convincing. He commenced by asserting as a truth, that commerce is all important to the prosperity of a nation, then gave a concise history of commerce from ancient to modern times. His next position was that commercial intercourse to be properly carried on between nations must be reciprocal to be fair, and in consonance with divine and a florage flats, will be said the lease for truth, and that position he illustrated by citing examples from the history of nations. He took the broad ground that both nations and individuals were bound to reciprocate, that is, when a favor is granted by one nation to another in the way of commercial intercourse, that act required a corresponding reciprocity, without which there would be a departure from the golden rule, of doing unto others as we would they should do unto us. At this point in the reverend gentleman's argument, we could not help thinking of Mr. Channing's celebrated rhyming dispatch to the British

> "In matters of commerce the fault of the Dutch, Is in giving too little and asking too much." which laconically expresses the idea exactly. Dr. Damon then gave a very interesting history of the Reciprocity Treaty between the United States and the Hawaiian Kingdom, and then glided into a history of the Opium War between England and China, and its consequences. He then gave an account of the Burlingame Treaty between China and the United States, and its consequences, citing in that connection the high compliment paid to Mr. Burlingame, by the then Premier of England, on the occasion of the visit of Mr. B. to Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain. He next took up the question of Chinese when he said :

understand. The reverend gentleman took the broad Catholic ground, that all people of every nationality had the right to emigrate to any other country from the place of their birth, and no people had the right to prevent them. To illustrate which he cited the case of the Chinese themselves who undertook a few years ago to drive the English from China by force of arms as Northern devils, in which they signally failed, and the result was the establishment of the English colony of Hongkong, with concessions of lands, harbors for commercial purposes, and other advantages, which were all the fruits of a commercial reciprocity treaty between China and England. He then discussed the question of Chinese emigration still farther, in reference to the position assumed toward the Chinese in the British Australian colonies, and on the Pacific slope of the United States. He spoke of the Chinese as a patient, peaceable, industrious peoples, who never interfered with the politics or internal affairs of any country they went to, and contrasted their, very properly, with the restless agitators, such as the sand lot orators of California, who raised the hue and cry that "the Chinese must go," and just here we take occasion to say, that Dr. Damon did himself honor in his manly utterances on this branch of his subject, for he plainly told his audience that those who think they can drive the Chinese out of any country by brute force will find themselves mistaken, and the sooner they learn that truth the better. Such is but an imperfect outline of Dr. Damon's excellent discourse, which we wish every man and woman in this Kingdom could have heard as we did. By the way, we trust Dr. Damon will publish his sermon on Thanksgiving Day, so that not only the people of these islands can read it, but that it may be read by the people of the United States also. The Chinese problem is but poorly understood by the mass of the people anywhere, and it is just such utthe people anywhere, and it is just such utterances as Dr. Damon's that will enlighten the ignorant, and drive prejudice to the wall on this question. Dr. Damon deserves the thanks of every good man, for the bold and manly stand he has taken upon a question in which of one. It has at least been thereby delivered of the stand he has taken upon a question in which is involved so much of interest politically, morally and religiously.

For the past two years the GARRITE has labored to present the same views of the Chimes are the morning of November 1st last. He labored to present the same views of the Chimes are the morning in Wisconsin, and had on the The second series in the city of Chicago, and the second series in the second s mos, to the people of these islands, from a the question at issue. We rejoice, therefore, to find that our views are sustained by a man of the learning, experience and christian character of Dr. Damon, who has evidently given the subject his most mature thought and patient investigation.

Recent Elections in the United

By our eastern exchanges we have intelligence of the late elections in the United States, which is that the Republicans have carried everything before them with the resistless force of an avalanche. The great States of SOMETHING EXTRA New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the Northwest have all gone Republican, whilst in the Southern States where elections have been held, the Democracy have been triumphant, The result in the States just named, would TUST AT HAND PER HONORA, seem to indicate pretty surely, that unless a great change takes place, the Republican party will be successful in electing the Presidectial candidates in 1880. The result in New CASTLE & COOKE. York places Samuel J. Tilden outside the pale 779 18 of possibility for a nomination as a Presidential candidate in 1890, a consummation devoutly desired by a large proportion of his political partisans. This is a result we anticipated long ago, and as we have often intimated in our columns, if the Republicans should nominate Gen. Grant, they will have an easy victory, but should they not nominate him, they may lose the chance so opportunely presented by the present aspect of things, as we read the political horoscope of the United

One of the Chaplains of the Bishop of Lendon will appear at St. Alban's Church, Halborn, Sunday, with written authority to perform service, but the perpetual curate will then present him with a document containing a series of reasons why he is unable to acknowledge Lord Penzance's Court. Upon this the Bishop's Chaplain, as has been arranged, will retire and Mackanochoe will proceed with the servise. The question of the power of the new Court and the jury in the case will by this action be raised.
The Archbishop of Canterbury has admitted that Lord Penzance's first appointment, under which Mr. Mackanochoe was condemned, was possibly irregelar, and that if it were irregular it would be null
